

PRESS RELEASE

CM.com

CM.com included in AMS Next 20 Index

Breda, the Netherlands, 22 June 2026 – CM.com (Euronext Amsterdam: CMCOM), a leading European technology company, announces it has been included in the AMS Next 20 Index on Euronext Amsterdam. The inclusion is effective today and reflects the company's growing market capitalization and trading liquidity.

The AMS Next 20 is part of the Euronext AEX index family and comprises the twenty highest-ranking Dutch securities outside the AEX and AMX. Inclusion increases the company's visibility among institutional investors and index trackers worldwide.

Jeroen van Glabbeek, CEO CM.com: "In the past period, we have diligently executed on our strategic agenda, which translates in our growing relevance as a listed company. We are proud to be included in the AMS Next 20, reflecting our continuous growth path and the confidence investors place in our business. We are eager to turn this recognition into further growth and create long-term value for our shareholders."

A share journey in milestones

The inclusion in the AMS Next 20 Index is the latest in a series of index inclusions that illustrate CM.com's growth path since listing:

- MSCI World Small Cap Index: Following its listing on Euronext Amsterdam in February 2020, CM.com was included in the MSCI World Small Cap Index in November 2020, which captures small cap representation across 23 developed markets.
- Amsterdam Small Cap Index (AScX): Following Euronext's annual index review, CM.com was included in the AScX as per March 2021. The AScX was part of the Euronext AEX index family and comprised the 75 highest-ranking Dutch companies by free float market capitalization. In September 2025 Euronext revised its index methodology and changed the index to AMS Next 20, reducing the number of constituents from 25 to 20, resulting in the removal of five companies, including CM.com.
- AMS Next 20 Index: With its inclusion in the June 2026 quarterly review, CM.com now moves up to the AMS Next 20, positioning among the most prominent non-AEX/AMX securities on Euronext Amsterdam.

The inclusion confirms that CM.com meets Euronext's stringent requirements with respect to market capitalization, free float and trading volume, an independent validation of the growth the company has achieved in recent years.

ABOUT CM.com

CM.com (AMS: CMCOM) is a leading European technology company that helps organizations worldwide improve customer interactions through integrated solutions for communications, payments, and AI. Headquartered in Breda, The Netherlands, CM.com serves customers in more than 100 countries and provides a scalable platform to automate and personalize customer journeys.

For more information, please contact us via: investor.relations@cm.com /+31651246159.